Indianapolis, IN - For the first time in its history, the Code 3 for a Cure Foundation (C3FAC) will have representation at FDIC (Fire Department Instructors Conference) International, the world's largest fire training conference in the world.

The representation is being made possible by Phenix Technology, Inc., who will be sharing its booth space with C3FAC team members. Phenix's relationship with Code 3 for a Cure began in 2014. This year, Phenix is supporting the work of C3FAC to a greater extent, in part by sponsoring its attendance at FDIC.

"The protection of firefighters isn't limited to safety gear and proper tactics," explains Angel Sanchez, Chief Operating Officer at Phenix. "It's important that they understand the long term risks of the job, including the additional cancer risks. We support Code 3 for a Cure because of their mission of educating and supporting firefighters and their families."

Code 3 for a Cure will be represented by two of its Board Members, Brian Anderson (Ohio) and Barry Frantz (Pennsylvania), who will be present at the Phenix booth (No. 4965) April 23-25.

"We are excited to be attending FDIC for the first time this year," says Peggy Abundiz, C3FAC's Public Affairs Officer. "We appreciate the fact that Phenix opened this door for Code 3 for a Cure, and our leaders look forward to sharing the C3FAC mission and purpose with firefighters from all over the country."

Started by two young firefighters in 1972, Phenix Technology, Inc. (also known as Phenix Fire Helmets) is an industry recognized manufacturer of high quality professional fire helmets. A major aspect of its purpose is to provide financial assistance to firefighters (whether active or retired and whether salaried, paid call, or volunteer) across the United States who are battling cancer and facing a financial hardship. Code 3 for a Cure also brings attention to the issue of firefighter cancer and helps minimize the impacts of cancer among firefighters. Read more at www.c3fac.org.
